

MY URBAN STORAGE

Description

My Urban Storage is the newest collection of storage units designed and produced by HOLMRIS as a more exclusive version of the Urban Storage collection.

My Urban Storage is characterized by sliding doors that come in many different colors and wooden surfaces with delicate handles, all in high-quality materials with noteworthy durability. Because of the large spectrum of color options, the different storage units are the ideal solution for office spaces. The front of the drawers and cabinet doors can be mixed and matched with beautiful colors to create a harmonious look.

This provides many options to create a storage unit that fits perfectly in any office landscape. With this storage collection, HOLMRIS encourages playful decoration with colorful storage units that are both elegant and functional with plenty of space. The My Urban Storage units are available in many different heights to make it possible to find the best suitable storage unit for any space.
