

HOLMRIS B8
room for people

CENTRAL STATION

CENTRAL STATION

Central Station

In collaboration with C.F. Møller, HOLMRIS B8 developed Central Station – a new furniture series designed for breaks that also serves as an elegant room divider. The vision was to create furniture that provides optimum cohesion between the different zones in offices, learning environments, hotels, restaurants, etc.

Drawing inspiration from the mobility and flexible solutions of nomads, Central Station is dynamic furniture that can quickly change and transform the utility and essence of a space – to meet new needs and deliver new functionality.

The series consists of a modular basic concept with elements that can be combined in countless ways. Create new working and meeting spaces with tabletops, informal break spaces with upholstered benches, and decorative storage with a range of different containers and shelves.

"In our work, we have drawn inspiration from the nomads, who move from place to place without a permanent residence. Their mobility requires furnishings that can be quickly packed, moved and reassembled. Nomadic life is in many ways comparable to the modern office or school, where we move around according to our given tasks, teams and personal preferences. It takes many different types of furnishings to meet our changing needs and to provide clear demarcations within a given space."

Jon Brøcker, Head of C.F. Møller Design.

Danish design with a raw look

Stylish design – combined with raw and understated elements in black aluminium – creates a clean and minimalistic look. Wood, linoleum, and fabric from Kvadrat add warmth and tactility, softening the overall impression.

Modules unlock possibilities

The core of the divider furniture is a skeleton – a ladder – to which you can attach:

- Desks
- Partitions
- Benches
- Various types of storage
- Cable trays
- Flower boxes, and much more

HOLMRIS B8
room for people